UNIQUE PARTNERSHIPS

PARTNERING WITH ORGANIZATIONS WE MAY NOT USUALLY THINK OF AS PARTNERS.

AVOIDING DUPLICATION

AVOIDING DUPLICATION OF SERVICES

Understanding Duplication

- Duplication occurs when
 - multiple organizations or individuals offer
 - similar mental health services in the same community.
- Duplication can lead to
 - inefficiencies,
 - wasted resources, and
 - gaps in care for those in need.

AVOIDING DUPLICATION OF SERVICES

The Cost of Duplication

- Financial burden
 - Duplication wastes valuable resources that could be better allocated to underserved areas or innovative programs.
- Emotional toll
 - Clients may experience
 - Confusion
 - frustration, and
 - disconnection when navigating overlapping services.

RISK AND PURPOSE

ALIGNING ORGANIZATIONAL PURPOSE AND RISK MANAGEMENT

Clearly define and communicate the core purpose, mission, and values of the organization. This will help ensure alignment across all activities and decisions.

Evaluate the current state of alignment between organizational purpose and day-to-day operations, policies, and risk management. Identify any gaps or misalignment.

Analyze the potential risks and opportunities that may impact the organization's ability to achieve its purpose. Consider both internal and external factors.

Create a plan to address the identified gaps and ensure that the organization's purpose, activities, and risk management are fully aligned. This may involve adjusting policies, processes, or resource allocation.

Implement the alignment strategies and continuously monitor their effectiveness. Adjust as needed to maintain a strong, purposeful, and risk-aware organization.

ALIGN WITH ACTIVE PARTNERS

ALIGNING WITH PARTNERS: SHARED RESPONSIBILITY

DEFINE SHARED GOALS

Establish clear, mutually-beneficial objectives that both organizations can work towards collectively.

LEVERAGE UNIQUE STRENGTHS

Identify and capitalize on the specific capabilities and resources each partner brings to the table.

ESTABLISH OPEN COMMUNICATION

Maintain regular, transparent dialogue to address challenges, share progress, and make adjustments as needed.

ALLOCATE ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Clearly define the roles and responsibilities of each partner to ensure efficient and effective collaboration.

FOSTER A CULTURE OF TRUST

Build a foundation of trust and respect to enable a collaborative, supportive working relationship.

EMBRACE FLEXIBILITY

Be open to adapting plans and processes as the partnership evolves to meet changing needs and priorities.

NAVIGATING BOUNDARIES

NAVIGATING BOUNDARIES: FUNDING WITHOUT COMPROMISE

CLEARLY DEFINE YOUR BOUNDARIES

Establish clear and specific boundaries around your mission, values, and principles. These boundaries should guide your decision-making process when seeking funding.

PRIORITIZE ALIGNMENT OVER FUNDING

Carefully evaluate potential funding sources to ensure they align with your organization's mission and values. Avoid compromising your principles just to secure funding.

DIVERSIFY FUNDING SOURCES

Seek a mix of funding sources, such as grants, donations, and earned income, to reduce reliance on any single source and maintain autonomy.

NEGOTIATE FUNDING TERMS

When accepting funding, negotiate terms that preserve your organization's independence and decision-making power. Ensure there are no hidden agendas or strings attached.

COMMUNICATE YOUR BOUNDARIES

Clearly communicate your boundaries and non-negotiable principles to potential funders. Educate them on the importance of respecting your organization's autonomy.

SEEK ALLIES AND ADVOCATES

Cultivate relationships with like-minded organizations and individuals who can support and advocate for your boundaries when navigating the funding landscape.
